Does the tapware you are specifying have the required WaterMark certification?

For plumbers to legally install kitchen and bathroom taps into Australian homes, the tapware must be certified to comply with the Australian tapware standards, identified by the WaterMark certification.

All Perrin & Rowe tapware sold in Australia has WaterMark certification and is guaranteed to give trouble-free installation and years of trouble-free use.

A WELS rating has nothing to do with WaterMark certification and only relates to a tap or shower's water consumption rating. WELS gives no assurance to a purchaser that the item complies with the plumbing code, is suitable for installation into an Australian home or will be installed by a licensed plumber.

WaterMark is your guarantee that...

- the tapware has been designed, and manufactured for Australian conditions and plumbing systems.*
- the tapware has passed a series of stringent tests, required by Standards Australia, to prove that it is of good quality and complies with the requirements of the tapware Standards.*
- plumbers will happily install the taps and shower fittings into your project and will issue a Compliance Certificate*

Perrin & Rowe is a name you can trust:

- Perrin & Rowe has been manufactured in England for over 20 years and is recognised as the world's leading brand of traditional style tapware.*
- To enable Perrin & Rowe to be sold in Australia, all tapware and shower outlets have been re-designed and made to comply with the Australian Standards and plumbing requirements.*
- The premium quality of Perrin & Rowe bathroomware, tapware and accessories will enhance any project and give the owner many years of enjoyment.*
